Past problems with most concrete form oils and release agents:

- Are highly toxic*
- Cause staining*
- Provide poor to moderate results*
- Leave significant residue behind on forms and molds*
- Require labor time for mixing release solution
- Evaporate at high temperatures*
- Freeze at low temperatures
- Large amounts of product are required per application*

**Include diesel*

Alderox® KR7® is the only concrete form oil and release agent that:

- Is 100% biodegradable**
- Does not negatively effect molds or equipment
- Provides superior results on both forms and molds
- Ready to use, does not require mixing
- Does not evaporate at high temperatures
- Does not freeze at low temperatures
- Allows for multiple use of forms
- Utilizes convenient, advanced filming technology
- Provides a film to eliminate rust and corrosion on metal molds
- Excellent for use with architectural molds
- Superior "Reactive" based release agent

ALDEROX® KR7® was brought to market in response to the concrete industry's need for an effective, economical, and environmentally friendly release agent. KR7™ is applied as a clear coating to concrete molds/forms and allows concrete to be easily released from molds/forms.

\* Alderox® KR7® is the only EcoLogo™ certified form oil and release agent in the world.*

Breakthrough technology improving efficiencies and results:

- KR7® utilizes unique filming technology to provide an ultra thin layer of release agent at an application volume up to 10 times less than conventional water based release agents.
- KR7® provides superior results with:
  - NO recorded breakage
  - NO discoloration
  - NO residue left in molds and forms
  - A better 'drop' rate
- Forms treated with KR7® often have useful lives up to three times longer than those using competitors' release products. Forms using KR-7® do not typically need to be cleaned after use, saving manpower time and thereby increasing productivity.

- No other release agent outperforms KR7®
